

The IDP initiative, which was initiated by eight co-sponsors, now has 67 co-sponsoring members from different regions and at various development stages. We should try to get more members on board for more extensive cooperation and more substantive outcomes.

To this end, the IDP should try to bring more members joining in our discussion. The IDP should cooperate closely with other international organizations such as the UNEP, UNCTAD, OECD and the